EDWARD W. PUTNEY ADVANCES TO RANK OF COLONEL

Military Department Gives Colonel Insignia

Lieutenant Colonel Edward W. Putney, Professor of Military Science and Tactics at the University, was informed last Tuesday that he had been advanced to a colonel, the highest rank in his arm of the service.

The officers stationed at the University assembled at eleven o'clock Wednesday morning in the Gym and the oath of office was administered to Colonel Putney by Major Swanton, Summary Court. Following the formal ceremony, Colonel Putney was presented with a new set of silver insignia by the members of the Military department.

Colonel Putney has been in the service for 28 years as a commissioned officer. He graduated from West Point in 1908. He served as an instructor in Chemistry and Electricity at the Military Academy from 1912-1916. At the outbreak of the war in 1917 he went to France where he served for a time as Director and Assistant-Commandant of the Artillery school of the A. E. F. He was then placed in charge of a battalion of railroad artillery. For the remainder of the war he served with the chief of artillery, G. H. G. of the A. E. F.

Following the Armistice he served as Assistant Professor of Military Science at M. I. T., 1919-1923. Upon leaving M. I. T. he continued his technical training at the Artillery school at Fort Monroe. He then enrolled at the Command and General Staff school at Fort Leavenworth and graduated with honors. In 1931 he graduated from the Army War college at Washington and in the same year became a professor of Military Science and Tactics at the University with the rank of Major. In 1932 he was advanced to Lieutenant Colonel.

Captain and Mrs. Devens Entertains Before Ball

Captain and Mrs. W. George Devens are entertaining with a formal dinner at the Tower Tavern Friday evening before the Military Ball. Their guests include Colonel and Mrs. Edward W. Putney, Colonel Putney's mother, Mrs. H. Y. Putney, Major Donovan Swanton, Major and Mrs. George L. Prindle, Major and Mrs. Samuel L. Buracker, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Y. Blewitt, Miss Mildred Scanlon, and Mr. William Redman, Captain of F Company, 6th Regiment, Scabbard and Blade.

Tall red tapers and appropriate centerpiece adorn the long table in keeping with the season of the year.

STRING QUARTET GIVES CONCERT

Felix Fox, Faculty of N. E. Conservatory of Music Takes Part

The Boston String Quartet, the second in the series of programs offered by the Lectures and Concerts committee was presented in Murkland auditorium last Wednesday evening. The quartet consisted of Harrison Keller, first violin; Paul Fedorovsky, second violin; Georges Fourel, viola; and Alfred Zighera, violoncello, all faculty of the New England Conservatory of Music. They were assisted by Felix Fox, famous Boston pianist.

The first group of selections consisted of the various movements of the "Quartet in C Minor, opus 51, number 1" by Brahms, "Allegro", "Romanze (poco adagio)", "Allegretto molto moderato e comodo", "Finale (allegro)".

The second group of selections played by the quartet consisted of "Andante con moto", by Frederick S. Converse; "Allegro deciso", by Edward Burlingame Hill.

The third and last group of selections was taken from the "Pianoforte Quintet in F minor" by Franck—"Molto moderato quasi lento; allegro", "Lento con molto sentimento", "Allegro non troppo ma con fuoco".

In spite of the rainy weather the concert was very well attended.

GEORGE ABBE'S WORK APPEARS IN YANKEE

On the cover of the December issue of the Yankee there appeared a poem entitled Christmas Letter from the South, by George Abbe, '33. When he attended school, Mr. Abbe was recognized as a writer of exceptional ability. He was one of the twenty-five young poets whose works appeared in the anthology. Trial Balances. He was also prominent in campus activities as a member of the New Hampshire staff, as editor of the Athletic News, and he was a New Hampshire candidate for the Rhodes Scholarship. Mr. Abbe is now engaged in graduate work at the University of Iowa.

In the next issue of the Yankee there will appear a poem written by John Starie, '35. Mr. Starie received his masters degree from Columbia last year. He, also, was a candidate for the Rhodes Scholarship.

CATHOLICS HOLD FIRST CLUB FORUM

The Catholic club held its first formal meeting last Monday evening in the Common's trophy room. Father Chartier spoke on "Marriage, Separation, and Divorce."

After the talk the following permanent officers were elected: Richard Galway, president; Gertrude Hayes, vice-president; and Jane Linscott, secretary.

Plans are now under way to incorporate the club into a local chapter of the Newman club, a national association of Catholic clubs. Ruth Buckley was appointed to make the final arrangements with the national office.

A forum and question period has been planned for the next meeting of the club. The social hour will be directed by Kay Ahern, Grace Brown, and Regis Lyons.

McIntire Displays Skiing Equipment

Next Monday night Brad McIntire will hold open house to all who are interested in skiing.

Mr. McIntire will have a display of skiing equipment. Ed Blood's skiing equipment that he took to the Olympics will be shown. Ed Blood and Coach Sweet will be there to give advice on skiing, and Penn French, ski instructor, will talk about skiing lessons.

Military Ball Honors Olive Raymond, Olive Richards As Cadet Majors

Mary Geno will be presented as the honorary Cadet Colonel at the Scabbard and Blade Military Ball in the gymnasium tonight. Olive Raymond and Olive Richards will serve as aides to the honorary Cadet Colonel and will be honorary Cadet Majors of the artillery and infantry battalions.

In addition to the presentation of the honorary Cadet Colonel and Cadet Majors during intermission, 22 junior officers will be formally pledged to Scabbard and Blade. Following the pledging ceremony, which is planned to be more impressive and elaborate than any previous one, regular army officers of the Military Science department will present the Senior commissions.

Dan Murphy and his Musical Skippers will bring Tubby Randall and the two Musical Mermaids with them to present a program of the latest swing music and rhythm. With a personnel of 11 musicians and three vocalists, attired in white nautical uniforms, the orchestra, which has just returned from a successful western tour, has played at practically every college in the country.

In the receiving line will be: Colonel and Mrs. Edward W. Putney, Major and Mrs. George L. Pringle, and Major Donovan Swanton. Invitations have been sent out to state and army dignitaries, and it is expected that representatives from the M. I. T., Boston University, and Rhode Island State Scabbard and Blade will be present at the ball.

The gymnasium will be elaborately decorated with flags and streamers. Machine guns will be emplaced in certain sections of the hall. A large crystal ball will be hung from the middle of the gym and four colored lights will play on it. A complete amplification system has been installed to insure that sound is carried to all parts of the hall.

Those who wish to see the impressive ceremony will be charged a small fee for admission to the balcony of the gymnasium.

ALUMNAE COUNCIL HOLDS SILVER TEA

Announcement was made by Eugene K. Auerbach, alumni secretary, of a silver tea to be held Sunday afternoon, Dec. 6, by the Alumnae council of the Alumni Association at Scott hall.

The tea is being held in connection with an exhibition of the painting "Morning Calm, Appledore" by the late Childe Hassam. Loaned by the Addison gallery of Andover, Mass., the painting will be on exhibition in Scott hall during December. The exhibit is the first in a series of projects sponsored by the Alumnae council for 1936-37, which was formed to benefit women students at the University in various ways, such as art exhibits and raising of loan funds. The exhibition and tea will be open to alumni, faculty, undergraduates and friends.

The Durham alumnae assisting the Alumnae council at the tea are: Mrs. Marion Arthur Blewett, Mrs. Margaret Cleveland Magrath, Mrs. Rachel Davis Martin, Mrs. Ruth Prescott Starke, Mrs. Frances Pease Leavitt, Mrs. Gwendolyn Lewis Hoitt, Mrs. Jane Blake Daland, Mrs. Marian Phelps Daggett, Mrs. Edith Ried Alexander, Mrs. Ada Langley Lundholm, and Miss Helen Henderson.

TONIGHT'S PLEDGES

Twenty-two junior officers will be formally pledged to Scabbard and Blade, honorary military fraternity, at the Military Ball tonight. Selected for their proficiency in military science, the complete roster of pledges is as follows:

ENGLISH TEACHERS CONVENE IN BOSTON

The University was represented by eight members of the English department at the silver anniversary of the National Council of Teachers of English, held at the Statler hotel, Boston, Mass., from Thursday evening, Nov. 26th, through Saturday afternoon, Nov. 28th. The delegation was the largest group of representatives of any of the English departments among the New England colleges. Dr. Alfred E. Richards, Mrs. Lucinda P. Smith, Assistant Professor Paul Schoedinger, Assistant Professor Thomas McGrail, Assistant Professor Robert Webster, Assistant Professor Edmund Cortez, Assistant Professor Carroll Towle, and Assistant Professor Sylvester Bingham attended.

The conference covered the teaching of English from the elementary grades of grammar school through high school and college. On the program were well known speakers and authors. Among them were Padraic Colum, the Irish poet, Robert Tristram Coffin, Phillis Bentley, the English author, and Walter Roolo Brown. Mr. Brown spoke concerning E. A. Robinson in a talk titled "Next Door to a Poet." Mr. Brown will appear on the lecture course program here at the University later in the school year.

The University was well represented by others than the English department itself. Many graduates, now teaching elsewhere, were present. Mr. Mark Neville, '23, who majored in English while here is the head of the English department in the John Burroughs school in St. Louis, Mo., a teacher at the summer school at the University of Arkansas, and the compiler of four anthologies of English Literature for high schools spoke on "Cor-

MASK AND DAGGER PRESENTS PLAY BY JOHN GALSWORTHY

Play Has Large Number of Experienced Actors In Cast

"Loyalties", one of the best known plays of John Galsworthy, will be presented by the Mask and Dagger society, Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday, December 9, 10, and 11. The play is intended as a contrast of the various types of loyalty displayed by certain classes of people. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Winsor's loyalty to the customs of their class, Treisure's loyalty to his master, General Canynge's loyalty to the traditions of the army, and Mabel Dancy's loyalty to her husband are all contrasted when a crises arises which affects all of their lives. The crises is precipitated by the greed of a young Jew, Ferdinand de Levis. The play is powerful and human, filled with drama that is relieved by occasional bits of comedy.

Principal Roles

The part of Charles Winsor, the owner of Meldon Court, is played by William Winterton. Winterton is a graduate of Manchester Central High school

THE LISTENING POST

by Donald Mendelson

The Supreme Court, several days ago, handed down a decision of important significance. The Unemployment Insurance act, recently passed by the New York State legislature, was declared to be a constitutional enactment. Employers opposing this act declared that the tax imposed upon them was unconstitutional in that property was being taken away "without due process of law and without the equal protection of the laws." The employers contended that property was being taken from them and given to another group, the employees. However, the Supreme Court decided that this tax was a legitimate exercise of the state police power and therefore, property was not being taken away without "due process of law." Since this tax only applies to concerns employing more than four people, there is no discrimination, in that the state has the right to classify groups for legislation. Therefore, there is no discrimination between the groups paying the tax, and the tax-exempt group, and it naturally follows that "equal protection of the laws is extended to both groups."

This is the first important decision of the Supreme Court since the recent Roosevelt landslide. The decision is significant in that it shows the attitude that the court may take toward the Social Security Act. In this act, employers as well as employees will be taxed to provide for the employee's security upon reaching the age of 65. It is very possible that the Supreme Court may favor this type of tax as long as the state is used as a proving ground or laboratory, but when it is to be conducted on a national scale the court may well decide that a tax of this type is unconstitutional. Public opinion may influence the Court to find the Social Security Act constitutional, but there is also the possibility that this Act will be thrown out the same as many of the other New Deal Acts. If this should occur, it is also possible that public opinion will demand a constitutional amendment to permit a legislation of this type.

With "BELS"-ON

Well, Mil Art Ball is here tonight, and those forlorn sweethearts that have been going steady will sit home and hear other bands . . . (on the radio) . . . Reason being that as some claim they are broke—We wonder? . . . Whether it is a case of being broke or just plain thoughtfulness . . . 'Tis too bad that the date bureau isn't working . . . "Queen" Colby has dropped her title due to the situation in England—namely, being that a commoner has quite a time trying to be a queen . . . She has been named "VIC" . . . short for Victrola . . . Who knows—she may be suffering from the strange malady that has afflicted the poor unfortunate boy in the West . . . "Boston Herald, Dec. 1". This column is not the only one that writes up our little Lou Wyman . . . The Boston papers had the young scion of "Boston Best" in pictures, with his "Sweet Virginia" . . . Hasn't he shown it to you yet? . . . How about Betsy-Lou? . . . "Miss Charm of the Murkland Auditorium Charms" selected Cynthia McGowan as a Perfect All-American Beauty . . . Case is doing all the bookings for "Mac" now. The dogs that sent their strange messages around Murkland last Tuesday, concluded their arguments and then sat outside the English Lit class . . . Another dog story. Freshmen be comforted. When you see Galworthy's "Loyalties" at Murkland next week, you may like to know that when Galsworthy was a school boy, his English compositions were so bad that it was hopeless. Well, you're not starting any worse than he did . . . Incidentally, when the nice industrious girls who are working backstage on "Loyalties" were waiting for Boss Nick Cricenti to appear and do his stuff, and found him sound asleep in Hetzel—and he stayed that way? . . . In conclusion they say that "Loyalties", Mask and Staggers latest, is not only a smashing good show, but that it's thought provoking . . . Well, here's hoping it will change the current of the usual bull session . . . That would be a relief . . . Incidentally, what is known in the Hills of

He made clear that correlation of subject matter was only a small part of that whole field, and that there must be a correlation of objectives. He ended with a plea for correlation in schools, and said that because there were many mistakes made it was no sign that the idea was to be discarded.

OCCASIONALLY a telephone wire must be run under a rug or carpet. The twisted wire formerly used made an unsightly ridge.

So Western Electric—manufacturing, distributing and purchasing unit of the Bell System—produces a flat cord only one-eighth inch thick, seven-eighths of an inch wide. (Like this). Within this tiny space are four conductors of insulated wire. Under the rug or carpet this cord is not seen, not even felt with bare feet.

Even to the smallest detail, the Bell System is constantly on the lookout for the better way to make telephone service more satisfactory to the customer.

College men and women find after 7 P. M. a convenient time for making long distance calls. Moreover, most rates are lowest then.

"This year's schedule present the largest and most difficult array of basketball games that a New Hampshire freshmen team has ever faced," commented freshman basketball coach John Conroy this week.

Two weeks' nightly practice sessions have seen the huge turnout squad of fifty candidates pared down to twenty-three men.

Conroy, regarding this combination of hoopsters, said, "Although most of these candidates have made impressive records in high and prep schools, every one of them will have to fight hard for their positions, for as yet I can see no great stars among them. So far, however, they all look like good material. I can't tell just what kind of a showing they will make until the first game has been played with Holderness on December 16."

The schedule:

Dec. 16—Holderness	Durham
Dec. 19—Northeastern Frosh	Boston
Jan. 5—Boston University	Boston
Jan. 8—New Hampton Prep.	Durham
Jan. 12—Keene Noraml	Keene

Nine meets face the Wildcat ski team as New Hampshire opens the winter season January 16.

Only once will Eddie Blood's men ski on home territory. This meet is scheduled for the annual winter carnival weekend, which probably will be held February 12 and 13.

Four carnivals, besides New Hampshire's, will have the winter sports squad as guests—Conway, Williams College, Dartmouth College and Middlebury College.

The sixth meet is with the University of Maine at Orono, while the final will be the Intercollegiate Ski Union championship held this year at St. Margaret's in the province of Quebec, Canada.

There is a possibility that practice meets will be held December 30 and January 3, but nothing definite is known as regards to these as yet.

The schedule, released this week, is as follows:

1936	Dec. 30—Practice Meet (pending)
1937	Jan. 3—Practice Meet (pending)
	Jan. 16-17—Conway Carnival—Conway, N. H.

U., feels that the Tiger should have the call and Bill Stone, a transfer from deah ole 'Bama, feels—well, what do you think? Both room at Hetzel. Personally we think L. S. C. should go because they beat Vanderbilt, Miss. State and Arkansas by a total of twenty-two points more than the Tide could.

Consolation—Holy Cross couldn't score on St. Anselm but we did even if it was only a safety.

Congratulations to Mel Zais are in order. He was selected for the Jewish All-American team by the Jewish Telegraph. The poll included one hundred and fifty colleges and includes not only the season selected but also previous years of playing. Joe Nathanson was given honorable mention.

Jay Berwanger's article in the Saturday Evening Post is noteworthy reading for football addicts. He makes a comment on the reserves stating, "The coaches have found no substitute for the substitute." During his career at Chicago university, he gained more than a mile from the line of scrimmage and in one game, not playing because of injuries, his mates estimated that he gained 200 yards along the bench.

Joe Nolan back in the fistic wars again. A week from Monday, he and Frank Wageman hit the Arena.

Basketball right in on us but we don't see the team until the fifteenth of January when they play M. I. T. here. The way Henry Swasey is laying it on in practice we figure to have something this winter.

The pucksters are on the pond. That frosh club last year will give a nice impetus to an already good varsity club. Ray Patten, captain last year of the frosh will get a chance to show his stuff—might we say for a change?

Ed. Preble and Paul Horne
Chosen on Mythical
Eleven

Eddie Preble, quarterback, and Paul Horne, halfback, were named on the All-New Hampshire football team for 1936, it was announced Monday.

These awards are made yearly to New Hampshire boys, playing outstanding football on college teams throughout the country.

The team shows Hartung of St. Anselm at center; Martin of Notre Dame, and Kissel of Boston college, guards; Dominick of Boston college and Kenney of St. Anselm, tackles; Grygeil of Boston college and Connors of St. Anselm, ends.

The backfield has Preble of New Hampshire, quarterback; Gintoff of Boston college, and Horne of New Hampshire, halfbacks; Horsfal of Boston college, fullback.

This team comes very near to being an all-Catholic representation and could become one by dropping both the New Hampshire men for Dubicz and Murphy, both of St. Anselm.

Other New Hampshire men have played outstanding ball, it was stated, although not quite well enough to make the "All" squad. These include Fritz R6-sinski, Ken Bishop, Harold Mountain, and Don Currier in the line, and Mac Verville at halfback of the Wildcats.

Boston, Mass.; Jane Walton, Newburyport, Mass.; Charlotte Weatherby, Newburyport, Mass.; Jean Wilder, Wakefield, Mass.; Dolores Belanger, Manchester; Jeannette Belanger, Manchester; Pricilla Warren, Portsmouth.

Arline Judge Betty GrableVARSITY RIFLE TEAM DRAWS THIRTY-FIVE

Approximately thirty-five men reported to Coach-Major Samuel Buracker of the varsity rifle team, last Tuesday afternoon at the rifle-range behind the gym.

The first practice consisted chiefly of an outline of plans for the remainder of the season and instruction on the methods to be used.

Among those reporting were lettermen Frank O'Brien, Peter Lampesis, Roger Plummer, and Robert DuBois.

The schedule, which has not yet been made public will probably consist of thirteen matches, of which seven will be away from home.

Major Buracker declined to make any statement regarding the probable success of the team, feeling that the fellows should have more practice and more shooting experience, before anything is said.

Nancy Parsons, Dover; Verna Moulton, Plainfield; Elizabeth Johnson, Nashua; and Flora Sanborn, Brentwood.
